

Who We Are

With regional offices in British Columbia, Canada, and Associates across North America, Asia and the EU, Synergy's family of professional Business and Economic Development Consultants has served the private and public sectors, and government, for over twenty years. We are an experienced, hands-on consulting firm with an excellent track record.

Synergy has always been considered as somewhat 'stand apart', different from other consultants. We get involved. We take a strong and personal interest in all our mandates, our clients, and in delivering results. Synergy works to build relationships, not simply carry out assignments. We are roll-up-your-sleeves consultants, using our experience and expertise in a down-to-earth style. Our years of experience in regional, national and international consulting to business, communities and government have given us a unique perspective in dealing with challenges and opportunities in a personable and performance-driven manner. We pride ourselves in delivering what we commit to, and then some. It's our style.
